

You know that life insurance is a critical part of your overall benefits plan — that's why you chose to enroll in the Group Term Life insurance program offered by your employer. As you leave your employment, you have options to continue your current Group Term Life coverage and maintain this important protection for you and your family.

Now you have important decisions to make about continuing your Group Term Life insurance benefits. There are two options under which you can continue your coverage — Portability and Conversion. This brochure is designed to answer the most common questions about each option and give you a side-by-side comparison, so you can choose the option that best meets your needs.

Is there anything else I need to know?

To continue your life coverage benefits, you will receive a notice after your group life benefits end which includes coverage amounts and eligibility dates.

If you wish to increase your coverage amount or add spouse or child coverage, the non-underwritten policy available through the Conversion process may not meet your needs. An individually underwritten policy may be more cost-effective and provide additional benefits, such as the ability to elect waiver of premium, accidental death benefit and/or a children's term rider, that are not available with a Conversion policy. You may apply for a medically underwritten life insurance policy simultaneously with your application for the Conversion policy. Underwritten policies are subject to underwriting requirements, so you may have to provide medical information. If you apply for both the Conversion policy and an underwritten policy and are approved for the underwritten policy, then you can choose the underwritten policy. If you are not approved for the underwritten policy, then the Conversion policy will be issued and become effective on the 32nd day after your group coverage ends.

Portability or porting is an optional feature chosen by your former employer. It allows you and your dependents to continue their Group Term Life and Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D)¹ insurance under a separate policy. Once enrolled, MetLife will mail you a portable certificate and your initial bill. Instructions on how to set up the monthly Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) can be found on the back of your bill. If you apply for Portability, preferred portable rates are available for you and your spouse or domestic partner with Evidence of Insurability (EOI). Portable coverage is effective on the 32nd day after group coverage ends.

What if I still have questions?

Helping you make the best decision for you and your family's needs is important to us.

Understanding your options

Portability and Conversion

1. AD&D insurance does not include payment for certain losses as described in more detail in your certificate. Specific information pertaining to your insurance can be obtained by contacting your benefits administrator.
2. Any information provided as part of the PlanSmart program is for educational purposes only. It is not intended to provide legal, tax, investment, or financial advice or make any recommendation as to whether any investment or savings option is appropriate for you. Each individual's legal, tax, and financial situation is unique; therefore, you should consult with your own attorney, accountant, financial professional or investment advisor regarding your specific circumstances. MetLife does not provide legal, tax, or investment recommendations or advice. Third-party financial professionals provide securities and investment advisory services offered through qualified registered representatives of MML Investors Services, LLC. 3. All coverage amounts are subject to applicable state laws. To take advantage of this benefit, coverage of at least $10,000 must be elected.
4. You may later convert ported coverage when ported benefits end, or if the portable plan is terminated by MetLife. Conversion is not available on AD&D coverage. Conversion rates are based on your age at the time you convert.
5. All applications for coverage are subject to review and approval by MetLife. If you choose to apply for increased coverage, the increase may be subject to underwriting. MetLife will review your information and evaluate your request for coverage based upon your answers to the health questions, MetLife's underwriting rules and other information you authorize us to review. In certain cases, MetLife may request additional information to evaluate your request for coverage.

It’s important to understand the differences between these options. Use the chart below to help you make an informed decision.

6. You can receive a percentage of your life insurance proceeds in the event that you become terminally ill and your life expectancy is certified by a physician to be less than a specified period of time as described in your certificate and the group policy. The availability of and exact terms of the Accelerated Benefits Option (ABO) are subject to your plan design as well as state availability and regulation. This option is not available for dependent child coverage. The ABO benefits are intended to qualify for favorable federal tax treatment under Section 101(g) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. Sec 101(g)), in which case the benefits will not be subject to federal taxation. This information was written as a supplement to the marketing of life insurance products. Tax laws relating to accelerated benefits are complex and limitations may apply. You are advised to consult with and rely on an independent tax advisor about your own particular circumstances. Receipt of ABO benefits may affect your eligibility, or that of your spouse or your family, for public assistance programs such as medical assistance (Medicaid), Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF), Supplementary Social Security Income (SSI) and drug assistance programs. You are advised to consult with social service agencies concerning the effect that receipt of ABO benefits will have on public assistance eligibility for you, your spouse or your family. This is a life insurance benefit that also gives you the option to accelerate some or all of the death benefit in the event you meet the criteria for a qualifying event described in the policy. This policy or certificate does not provide long-term care insurance subject to California long-term care insurance (LTC) law. This policy or certificate is not a California Partnership for Long-Term Care program policy. LTC insurance provides nursing home care, home-health care, personal or adult day care for individuals above age 65 or with chronic or disabling conditions that need constant supervision. This policy or certificate is not a Medicare supplement (policy or certificate).

7. Subject to state law, and/or group policyholder direction, the Total Control Account is provided for all Life and AD&D benefits of $5,000 or more. The assets backing the Total Control Account (TCA) are maintained in the general account of MetLife or the Issuing Insurance Company. These general accounts are subject to the creditors of MetLife or the respective Issuing Insurance Company. MetLife or the Issuing Insurance Company bears the investment experience of such assets and expects to earn income sufficient to pay interest to TCA Accountholders and to make a profit on the operation of the TCAs. Regardless of the investment experience of such assets, the effective annual rate on the Account will not be less than the rate guaranteed on the welcome guide. The TCA and other available settlement options are not bank products and are not insured by the FDIC or any other governmental agency. In addition, while the funds in your account are not insured by the FDIC, they are guaranteed by each state's insurance guarantee association. The coverage limits vary by state. Please contact the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (www.NOLHGA.com or 703-481-5206) to learn more.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT YOUR STATE DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE.

8. Cost of insurance rates are determined using methodologies that vary by company. These rates can vary and will generally increase with age. Rates for active employees may be different than those available to terminated or retired employees. It's important to look at all factors when evaluating the overall competitiveness of rates and the value of life insurance coverage.

9. A non-renewable term life policy may precede a whole life conversion policy if your group coverage is issued in New York or West Virginia.
